Why Daycare is Best for Dogs Who Are Already Socialized

Myth:

Daycare can change my dogs behavior and teach them how to socialize with other dogs

Truth:

Daycare is a place for dogs who ALREADY love to play and socialize with other dogs. Dogs who are overexcited, nervous, fearful, or overstimulated will not learn how to interact, but rather be driven further in the wrong direction. Some dogs do not enjoy the company of other dogs, and that is okay! Daycare is not a place to train, but rather a safe place to play and entertain dogs who are an appropriate fit.

If socialization of your dog is your goal for enrolling in daycare, we can help connect with better resources to achieve that.
